“ My condolences to Randy’s Family including my daughter Alicia and her 3 children who he was building a life with. He loved them completely. I could see that by the way he treated them and they loved him as well. They were building a wonderful life together but his past demons took him away. The obituary didn’t tell the story of the man he was fighting hard to become because of the love and support he felt from Alicia. He was an incredible tattoo artist and was expanding on that talent. He treated my grandkids with love and enjoyed doing things as a family with them. The loss to them will be incredible. RIP Randy and look over them as they fight to continue with all the dreams you had with them.

“ This is so incredibly beautiful A past doesnt make the person.. he was fighting everyday to be a better man, and i could see the love that he and Alicia had for one another. My heart is breaking for her, but shes a strong and determined woman, she will get through this storm! Rest peacefully now Randy.. your struggles are over.

“ Randy always was a caring guy. He always made the day bright and Colorful. I remember the time we spent locked in the county both going away for awhile...Randy is the one who I could talk to and he made it so I wasn't scared! He said "be tough Eric you got this" I love you cuz and I will always remember those words. R.I.H
