“ Brandon was one of the most intelligent people I ever met. He had a sweet sweet spirit and kind eyes. My heart is broken over this loss. Praying for comfort for the Blosser family during this time.

I didn't even know this happened until recently. It's sad to know that this happened. We were friends in highschool and had met up again years after and had a very good time. He was a very sweet person. I don't know the whys or hows but I'm sincerely sorry to the Blosser family for their loss.

I miss you daddy so much I remember me, you and aiden went to chunky cheese good times right? When I found out I felt so alone like the world was telling me a sign but then I kept in mind Slush the wolf stuffed animal you got me. The hoodie you gave me and your bracelet I'm so so so sorry I lost it daddy. I remember the last time I saw you you gave me a huge hug and i will never forget that but that was 4 years ago I need a hug now. I just turned 11 aiden is almost a teen just one more year.. I got a baby bunny but never made it so mom got me a new bunny his name is cookie dough. Your a grandpa to a bunny❤️. I miss you playing in your band and i miss your kisses I'm so sorry you took that road daddy you don't deserve it. I got a bf he is the best his name is Damien you would like him he's sweet and he cares about me. I wish I had one chance to see you again I love you and i miss you daddy.
