“ I have known Edward most of my 37 year engineering career, but really got to know him well when we worked together at Dynotec from 2006-2012, then us continuing to meet on a regular basis. We were scheduled to meet in March and I was very concerned to hear about his health problems but just assumed he would pull through. This is such a shock and huge loss, not only to the engineering community but to me personally for the loss of my good friend. Edward was an outstanding engineer with his multi-disciplined approach to engineering including bridges, roadway, drainage and lighting design. He could write proposals and manage projects, but his true passion was problem solving through design and he did it very well. Although we had not worked at the same firm for the last 11 years, I still reached out to him for technical questions and advice - but it was his easy going style, taste in music and general outlook on life that made me admire him. Farewell my friend...

“ Dear Mother Sadie,

I am truly sorry for your loss and extend my deepest condolences to you and your family during this difficult time. Your son, Edward Crusoe, was a dear friend and colleague of mine, and I am honored to have known him.

Edward was a gentle and intellectual human being who always had a positive impact on the people around him. He was a Godfather, especially for minorities who worked with him, and a great mentor to many. I am grateful for his guidance and support, which have helped me tremendously in my career.

Edward's engineering skills were exceptional in different disciplines, and he was a neat engineer who always delivered projects with utmost perfection. His expertise and professionalism were highly respected by everyone who had the opportunity to work with him.

Beyond his impressive professional accomplishments, Edward was a joy to be around. His sense of humor and positivity made work a more enjoyable place, and his kindness and generosity towards his colleagues were immeasurable.

Your son was a remarkable human being, and his passing has left a void in the hearts of all who knew him. I hope you find comfort in knowing that he made a positive impact on so many lives and that his legacy will live on in the memories of those who loved him.

Please accept my deepest sympathies during this difficult time, and may Edward's soul rest in eternal peace.

*Sincerely,
TesPetros*
